1. (Currently Amended) A fitted garment comprising:

a first panel of fabric having a torso section which is shaped to substantially surround a waist region of a wearer's body and which has upper portions configured to extend outwardly in a finished garment to both underarm regions of the body such that no seams are present within both armpit regions of the body; and a second panel joined to the first panel and having a first arm section and a first upper back section, wherein the first arm section forms a sleeve and the first upper back section is configured to extend across at least a portion of the upper back of the body, the sleeve having a bend at an elbow region thereof such that a forearm section of the sleeve forms an angle to an upper arm section of the sleeve, and wherein the bend is provided in part by a dart which in the finished garment begins at a seam located at an upper rear side of the upper arm section and terminates adjacent the elbow region, the dart being formed from only the second panel by joining edges of the second panel together without creating a fold within the second panel.
